Williamson

At the end of June 2000, Dr. Samuel R. Williamson, Sewanee's fourteenth vice chancellor will leave the president's office to return to the classroom. His tenure, the fourth longest among all of Sewanee's vice chancellors, has been marked by the steady growth and strengthening of the university's position in a number of arenas. Since he assumed the duties of vice chancellor and president in 1988, enrollment both in the College of Arts and Sciences and at the School of Theology has risen to all time highs, the school completed its most successful fundraising campaign ever, the institution's endowment has nearly tripled, a vigorous program of construction and renovation was started, and guides like U.S. News, acknowledging the university's growing strength, have placed Sewanee higher in their annual rankings. (Joe Romano) Sam and Joan Williamson, Sewanee says "Hail and Farewell."

Tricia.

You have turned a "Hard Candy Christmas" into a "Cotton Candy Graduation Day." This was a direct result of your ability to combine your talents – intelligence, sense of humor, personal drive, winning attitude and people skills – so that you have always been a winner.

This winning approach to life has made us proud of you. Now, it will not only continue that, but it will insure that you will be a success in whatever you do in the future.

We love you!
